

TWELVE STRIKE UTILIZES WATER JET TECHNOLOGY

Ron Richmond, owner of Twelve Strike, also owns a metal fabrication business. Owning and operating a business like that requires being fully trained to operate large machines that cut, bend and shape various kinds of metals.

Twelve Strike's pedestals (all metal products) are custom produced by Ron and his staff, one at a time, in his metal cutting plant, utilizing a high accuracy water jet table. Because each pedestal is produced in house - one by one - the highest level of quality control is in play.

Twelve Strike is the only Automatic Scoring Company that provides their partners (customers) with the opportunity to help design their custom pedestal with Ron, to create a unique design that will complement the centers internal look and design and other items they need, including TV Brackets and other items that need to be replaced. Twelve Strike not only does work for their customer and their centers, but also provides fabrication to ALL bowling centers, making their thoughts a reality also.
